Overview

Cara Chiappetta strives to make a tangible difference in people's lives, whether advocating for clients and helping them navigate complex situations, or impacting the community in a meaningful way. She takes time to understand what is important to each client, offering clear communication and transparency to achieve the best possible outcomes.

Before joining the firm, Cara worked at law firms in Vancouver, WA and Flagstaff, AZ. She also completed a clerkship with a large insurer in Ohio drafting pleadings and assisting claim adjusters with coverage assessments. Her writing prowess garnered CALI awards from the University of Akron School of Law for both legal writing and legal drafting.

Outside of work, Cara enjoys reading, trying new restaurants, and traveling.
