Overview

Rosie advocates fiercely for her clients, meeting them where they are and taking the time to understand their situation, while guiding them through the complexities of the legal system with care and clarity. Her goal is to make a complex process feel manageable, helping each client move toward the best possible resolution with clarity and confidence.

A first-generation college student, Rosie garnered numerous accolades and recognitions at the University of South Carolina School of Law. She then worked at a few law firms in the Charleston and Columbia areas, honing her craft attending hearings, working alongside adjusters and clients, and drafting and filing a variety of court documents. Her experience in construction litigation and personal injury defense makes her a valuable asset to the Hedrick Gardner civil litigation practice group.

Rosie is fluent in Spanish and English. In her down time, she enjoys attending concerts, traveling, trying new restaurants, and spending time with friends/family. For a vacation spot, she is drawn to places with great weather, good food, and scenic views.
