Morgan Barker is a Workers' Compensation attorney at Hedrick Gardner, serving her clients by employing her exceptional communication skills and persuasive legal arguments to achieve a best-case scenario when encountering each matter. Her industrious work ethic and organized approach make her an asset to the firm.

Her experience includes working as a title attorney where she reviewed numerous insurance policies for title transfers, drafted opinions on legal documents regarding property ownership, and has represented lenders, buyers, and sellers in real estate closings.

In addition to her law degree, Morgan has earned her LLM in Cyber Law and Data Privacy at Drexel University.

Her interests beyond law include hiking, cooking, traveling, spending time with family and friends, and binge watching her favorite TV series.
